Evening Service

At “Lord, I call...,” 6 stichera.

NOTE: If this day falls on the Sunday After Theophany, then at “Lord, I call...” we sing 10 stichera: 3 of the Resurrection, followed by 3 of the Feast, and 4 of St Gregory. The stichera of St. Dometian are sung at Compline.

3 stichera, of St. Gregory, in Tone 5: To the melody, “O venerable father....”

O venerable and holy father Gregory, /

Thy voice is like an instrument played by the breath of the Comforter /

Filled with the clear melody of godliness; /

Thou art a candle enlightening many with divine light; /

A herald of the truth, the foundation of theology; /

A stream of teachings sweet as honey; /

An instrument playing the songs written by God gladdening the hearts of the faithful. /

Pray without ceasing, O divinely wise one /

To Christ, who was baptized in the streams of the Jordan for the renewal of the world, ///

That He may save our souls!

O venerable and all-praised father Gregory, /

Thou weapon destroying the assaults of the enemy; /

Two-edged sword of the Holy Spirit; /

Scythe, cutting through the thorns of deceit; /

Fire, consuming the dross of heresy; /

Winn~~ing~~-fan, separating the kernel of truth from the chaff of error; /

Rule, measuring for all the true path to salvation. /

Pray without ceasing, O divinely wise one, /

To Christ, who was baptized in the streams of the Jordan for the renewal of the world, ///

That He may save our souls!

O venerable, most-blessèd father Gregory, /

From the lips of thy mouth flow words of divine grace /

10 JANUARY: AFTERFEAST THEOPHANY; ST. GREGORY OF NYSSA;
ST. DOMETIAN, BISHOP OF MELITENE

Drawn from the fountain of salvation and freely given to all, /
Words of prayer which thou dost teach to all; /
O guide, leading us in the straight path of righteousness, /
Thou art enlightened with the grace of divine vision, /
Shining with the radiance of the uncreated Trinity. /
Pray without ceasing, O divinely wise one, /
To Christ, who was baptized in the streams of the Jordan for the renewal of the world, ///
That He may save our souls!

And 3 stichera, of St. Dometian, in Tone 1: To the melody, "O all-praised martyrs...."

Today the ancient deceiver /
Who once threatened to take the whole world into his hands and dry up the seas, /
Is shown to be a trapped bird, an insignificant gnat, a laughingstock of the faithful; /
For his frightening semblance has been stripped away ///
As he is trampled underfoot by the favorite of Christ.

Today, all ye faithful /
Dometian summons us to the Table for the divine feast. /
Let us gather around him in purity of heart /
And with him, let us celebrate his virtues on this festive day ///
Asking the Savior to grant peace to the world and great mercy to our souls.

O all hon'orable Dometian, /
Thou didst increase the talent given thee by Christ. /
And for this, thou didst hear His blessed words: /
Well done, O good and faithful servant, ///
Enter thou into the joy of the Lord and receive the reward of thy labors!

Glory..., of St. Gregory, in Tone 4:

Having adorned thy words with wisdom and virtue, /
Thou didst excel in both, O bishop of Nyssa, Gregory. /
Being filled with knowledge, thou didst delight thy people /
With the divine clarity of thy words /
Explaining to all the equal divinity of the Trinity. /
Therefore, O all-wise one, thou didst overcome the foreign heresies /
With the orthodoxy of thy teachings /
And didst raise the banner of the True Faith in all the ends of the earth. /
And standing now before Christ and His immaterial angels ///
Pray that He may grant peace to the world and great mercy to our souls.

The hand of the Baptist trembled /
When it touched Thy sinless head, O Savior. /
The River Jordan turned back its streams not daring to minister to Thee, /

Thou hast fulfilled all Thy dispensation, O Savior, ///
That by Thine Epiphany Thou mayest save the world, O only Lover of mankind.

The star from among the heavens, /
And the Jordan from among the waters /
In which Thou didst drown the sins of the world. ///

When the Baptist beheld Thee approaching, /
Who cleanses the sin of the world with fire /

I dare not touch Thy most-pure head, /
But do Thou sanctify me, O Master, by Thy Theophany, ///
O Thou who alone lovest mankind.

The Troparion of the Saints, in Tone 4:

O God of our fathers /
